FYI, some documents from Arkansas including the draft SIP. There is no enforceable shut down date for the BART source in the SIP or the administrative consent order, White Bluff, but there is an oblique acknowledgement that the source is going to cease conventional coal operations. The reasonable progress analysis for Independence is more interesting. It takes the position that obviously the EGU will not continue operating for another 30 years as it will have long exceeded its 40 year book life by that point. Again, no mention of the decision by Entergy to shut down the facility.
